The names of Edyth Jones Weathered and Miss E. Steele, of Portland, Oregon, appeared on the Merchant's register yesterday.

Mrs. Estella Davenport Nordstrom, wife of Mate Nordstrom of the dredge Jumbo, is visiting friends at Mobile while the dredge is undergoing repairs.

Mr. Julius Menko is training a juvenile minstrel company, which will appear at Clutter's hall April 18. The entire company is composed of girls from four to sixteen years of age.

Mrs. I. Eichenhauser and daughter, Messtertude, of Evansville, Ind., who were recent visitors here, have returned from a trip to Nassau and along the east coast of Florida and are now at Jacksonville.

Cooper & Co's Railroad Show will be here Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is said to be a very entertaining exhibition, presenting many new and novel attractions. The price of admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Hon. P. J. O'Conner, of Savannah, who is to deliver the address at the opera house to-night, arrived here yesterday afternoon. He was met at the station by a committee from Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians. During the afternoon he visited the wharves and other points of interest and was favorably impressed with what he saw in the Deep Water City. Mr. O'Conner is said to be an eloquent orator. His

Members of the Young Men's Business League are requested to note the announcement of the regular meeting at 8 o'clock p. m. to-morrow—Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Duncan left on the noon train for Louisville, whether they were called by telegram to the bedside of Mrs. Duncan's father, Mr. Shively.

Alba Haywood, Miss Gertrude Monroe, Miss Ethel Beatrice Carpenter and Mr. Gustave Ullrich, who will entertain the public at Clutter's music hall to-night for the benefit of the Elks' charity fund, are guests at Hotel Escambia.

The Baldwin-Melville Company, one of the most popular of the popular price companies, will begin their return engagement here tomorrow night, presenting the Devil's Web. Ladies will be admitted free to-morrow night when accompanied by a person holding a 30-cent ticket.

Laurel Hill Gazette: Mr. Scarritt Moreno, a prominent timber merchant of Pensacola, was here Wednesday looking after business interests. Mr. Moreno has been very successful since he entered the timber business and now contracts for the entire output of a large number of mills in Florida and Alabama.

Miss Childs and Miss Pauline Harding arrived here yesterday afternoon from Lexington, Ky. They were met at the station by friends who are spending the winter here and were shown the sights of the city, the view of the bay with its gorgeous sunset, as seen from Palafox wharf, being greatly enjoyed. They left this morning for the east coast, where they will join Major Johnson and party, who, after visiting St. Augustine, Miami, Palm Beach and other towns, will take a sea voyage on Major Johnson's beautiful yacht. They will cruise around the gulf among the keys and may visit Cuba if quarantine restrictions do not prevent them. The young ladies were delighted with Pensacola and expect to stop here awhile on their way home after the return of the yachting party.

In a letter to Senator H. H. McCreary of Gainesville, Senator S. R. Mallory writes from New Orleans that his health is slowly improving and that he will likely be in his seat at Washington some time in April. Senator Mallory also writes that he has been having a serious time, but feels that he is now on the road to recovery.

John Lyons of Beatrice, Ala., was here on the excursion over the Selma-Pensacola road Saturday and tried to play the part of Mr. Tough from Toughville. He did not like it at all because the police gently reminded him that he was not in the woods. The officers kindly let him return home and to-day Capt. Daw received a telegram from him inviting him to come to Monroe; that all his expenses would be paid. As he evidently wishes to reciprocate in his own peculiar way, on his own territory, for the reception given him here, and as he offers to pay all expenses, possibly including the undertakers' bill, it is very probable that Capt. Daw will accept the invitation and leave on the next train.
